As we approach the window for student and teacher elevate surveys, here are some strategies that your school community might consider to build enthusiasm and incentives for survey completion! Let this menu be inspirational and expansive; do whatever your team thinks will work best!

Make Elevate an "Assignment" in a Class ● Embarc Class ● Advisory Period ● English Classes ● Etc.	Lunchroom Tabling ● School staff set up a table with some laptops ● Offer completion stickers like election day	Marketing ● Create a "ad" campaign for elevate ● Enlist students to design and post posters throughout the building
Incentivise ● Class with the highest completion rate gets: ○ Donuts ○ Pizza ○ Karaoke Party ○ Movie Day	Elevate Day ● Dedicate a single period where the entire school takes the survey ● Consider what other reflection could occur during that time	Game-ify ● Include the elevate survey in a scavenger hunt ● Create stations with other end-of-year actions that need to be taken
Student-to-Student ● Seniors design elevate plan which could include these ideas or more ● Student led focus groups; Ask students what would get them to do a survey	Guardian Communication ● Use school's digital communication (text/email) to remind guardians ● Send a flyer home with students to remind families	Experience Day Reflection ● Complete Elevate in lieu of Experience Day feedback ● Print Elevate QRCodes for the busses or post-experience day activities

These ideas might work for adult survey completion as well! Tweak for adult staff members!
A classic strategy is to have teachers complete surveys during a PD or Staff Meeting
